The Makers of a Well Known Churn write:
"We have been often asked by dairymen: 'What is the very best soap to use to properly cleanse dairy utensils?' We have invariably replied, the 'Ivory,' but as for giving specific directions for washing dairy utensils, it is really summed up in making them thoroughly clean. Boiling water must be used, and that, in connection with IVORY SOAP, will thoroughly cleanse and deodorize the wood, leaving it clean and sweet for further use. Any dairy utensils half cleaned will spoil the delicate aroma of 'gilt edge butter,' which may be perfect in other respects."
A WORD OF WARNING.
There are many white soaps, each represented to be 'just as good as the 'Ivory';' they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

More Talk on the Amendment.

EDITORS COLUMBIAN.

DEAR SIRS: In reply to my friend A. J. D. on the amendment question, I am surprised that any sane person entertains such ideas, much less advocates them. His entire argument is one of entire exaggeration misconstruction and misrepresentation, which I am able to and will prove. The eloquent Jacksonian is undoubtedly laboring under a great mistake. When he undertakes to mix whiskey with Christianity, he might as well attempt to mix water with oil, they are as far different as day and night, which is readily seen by daily observations. The causes and effects of each make them in direct opposition to each other, for instance, Christianity elevates, improves civilization, protects society, is honorable, puts happiness into every household, decreases crimes and pauperism, lowers taxation, and establishes peace in our country. While upon the other hand whiskey degrades, debases, lowers civilization far below the brute creation, destroys society, is disgusting, and dishonorable, forces misery wretchedness and poverty into every household, is the father of crime and pauperism, increases taxation, and establishes despotism, anarchism, and ruination to our land, and more than this, it cuts down youth in its vigor, manhood in its strength, and age in its weakness; it makes wives widows, children orphans, fathers fiends and all paupers, producing weakness, not strength, sickness not health, death not life. The tree is known by its fruits. Now it is an established theory that they are in direct opposition to each other, and I think we will all frankly confess that Christianity is for good, and for the cause of good, as this is its only mission, and as they are opponents, then whiskey must necessarily be an evil, and for the cause of evil. Having fully proved the above fact I uphold that ministers of the gospel have a perfect right to preach it from the pulpit, on the ground that it is an evil, and the cause of a great many evils, and I ask you if it is not the duty of every minister in advocating the word of God, whether from the pulpit or elsewhere, to instruct suffering humanity how to be good, and to despise evil of every character. The Bible is full of such doctrine, and the Lord not only placed Adam and Eve in the garden of Eden, pure and without sin, but he warned them against evil, "the forbidden fruit." They had but one temptation placed before them and yet the Lord interfered. Now are the preachers of to-day to change the plan of preaching as laid down in the word of God and as taught by our Saviour, and adopt a new system, to please the rum traffic? To entertain such an idea is foily and ridiculous; it is a duty they owe to God, to preach against rum and all kinds of evil even if they do offend some where the shoe fits, for the devil himself is angry at Christianity. It is said he goeth around like a roaring lion seeking whom he may devour. It was not necessary for Paul to say "woe is me if I preach not prohibition," neither did he say "woe is me if I preach not murder, idolatry &c." and yet you admit that these are evils, for when he said "woe is me if I preach not the gospel" it included all these.

The person in question says the amendment party publishes some very silly things. Perhaps he may think the following is very silly, for example: A young man ripening into manhood, his parents have both taken great interest, care, and pride in rearing him, have expended the larger portion of their hard earnings in educating and giving him a start in his future life, he leaves home a pure and modest young man, finally he is thrown among strangers, and his surroundings now are of a far different nature. Having no parents now to coasult, he associates with comrades who are in the habit of drinking and occasionally becoming drunk; the temptation being very great and forgetting all about home, he yields and becomes a drunkard. In one of his drunken spells he commits murder and is tried and sentenced to hang. Just think of that for poor father and mother's hearts as they approach the gallows on the day of execution. Their hearts at one day beaming with joy over the future prospects of their only son, and to-day he is doomed to hang till he is dead, dead, dead. Did you ever stop and think that you might be placed in this same position, for there has been many such instances.

In speaking of our Saviour drinking wine, admitting that he did, it was undoubtedly pure wine, and no place in the word of God do we learn that Jesus was ever drunk, or under the influence of it, as it was pure, and he allowed no impurities or unclean things to enter his mouth, nor did he allow such to pass from his mouth, and your correspondent does not say what this wine was made from, except at the marriage feast in Cana of Galilee, he mentions where he turned water into wine. This clearly shows that he took the purest thing possible to make it, and such will not injure nor intoxicate any person, but this was taken figuratively solely for the purpose of performing a miracle, as was other miracles he performed. While here on earth for instance, the loaves and fishes, curing the leper, maim to walk, healing the sick, blind to see, &c. We have just as good right in our day to make use of these other miracles as we have of the wine miracle, for Solomon said "wine is a mocker and strong drink is raging and whosover is deceived thereby is not wise." Again, "look not upon the wine when it is red, for in the end it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder." The Saviour undoubtedly had not reference to wine made from water or to pure wine, but to fermented wine. This miracle that he performed was not to advocate drinking wine, but to show his power in all the cases where he performed these miracles. We as prohibitionists would not complain or object if the wine of to-day was made as Christ made it from pure water. This is what we advocate, that pure water or wine is the only wholesome thing for man to drink, and there would be no need for licensed houses and laws to govern the same. We would have less jails, penitentiaries, asylums, almshouses, murderers, thieves, vagabonds, blacklegs, drunkards, misery, poverty, wretchedness, starvation, weeping, beaten and neglected mothers and homeless children.

Your correspondent also asserts that the Apostle Paul in speaking to Timothy requests him thus, "Drink no longer water, but a little wine for thy stomach's sake and thy oft infirmities." The language of Paul itself shows it was for medical use. Just here a history of wine in those days will explain all. The translation of the Hebrew words, Fagin, means all kinds of wine unintoxicating, and intoxicating, Shekar, sweet drink generally intoxicating, Alesis, unfermented, Mesek, wine mixed with water or with drugs, Kleouietz, fermented but not intoxicating. The translation of the Greek words, Onios, all kinds of wine fermented and unfermented, Gleokas, sweet wine unfermented, Sikera, sweet drink, unintoxicating so you see the term wine is variously applied in the Bible, fermented and unfermented, intoxicating and unintoxicating, that among the Jews, Greeks and Romans, there were different kinds of unintoxicating wines, that the same still exists in many eastern countries, and was extensively used by the ancients. You can very readily see the Bible informs us that there was two kinds of wine made and used, the same kind which our divine master made and the Bible sanctioned was unfermented, and the other kind which the Bible condemns was fermented wine, the one being wholesome and the other poisonous. The Bible teaches us to abstain, and abstinence is in accordance with health; it also contains warnings against drunkenness, habitual drinking, and even drinking at all, as the following quotations show, "who hath woe, who hath sorrow, who hath contentions, who hath babbling, who hath wounds without cause, who hath redness of eyes, they that tarry long at the wine, they that go to seek mixed wine, look not thou upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth his color in the cup, when it moveth itself aright, at last it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder. Woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink, that putteth thy bottle to him, and maketh him drunken." So you see that tarrying long at the wine, drinking mixed wine, and strong drink, and putting the bottle to his neighbor's lips and making him drunken, are clearly condemned.

I admit we were not put here on flowery beds of ease, but it is your interest, and my interest, to have as few evils as is possible, to have only such evils that are impossible to blot out of existence, that it is our imperative duty to eradicate any evil, such as the one mentioned, from the catalogues of crime. We have enough temptations to resist without putting more in the land. We had better abandon some, if we cannot entirely exclude it from the country, we desire the law to prohibit the manufacture and sale of it as a beverage the same as it prohibits murder. Murder is not legalized, neither should rum be. Well, but they say that you can't prevent their getting it, they will have it, neither can you prevent murder for they will murder, but you can give it all the restriction the law affords, as in the case of murder, and this will modify the crimes that would be perpetrated very much. It is certain it will cure the ten cent drunkard, and this is the worst enemy to contend with. I admit that those persons who have the means and faculties may get it from other states, but the majority can not do this, and besides this, if we undertake to have all the states act upon this amendment at the same time, it would never carry; It must be accomplished by degrees, one state at a time. Yes, but you say it will not prohibit. It will to the same extent that other laws prohibit various crimes, for example, you compare two places, the one has a licensed house, and the other none. I know of such places, and my experience is, that in places without license the old confirmed drunkards will have it if they can get it, but the young generation have grown up to manhood, sober, industrious, honest and upright men, with scarcely an exception. But the places having license are quite the reverse, the old confirmed drunkard always get it, and three fourths of the young men have met their fate, and are on the downward road to ruin. I appeal to you if this is not the case. Place the evil and temptations before them, and it has its power, and a mighty one too, but take it away, and its power is useless, it is gone forever. One ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. And now the taxpayers, you ask, what will become of them. Did you ever stop and think what makes all this burdensome tax? Does not the rum traffic compel us to build commodious jails, asylums, penitentiaries, and almshouses to hold her criminals? Who pays this I ask. Do we not pay for the keeping and trial of such criminals, directly and indirectly? Are we not compelled to keep all extra police force for the protection of ourselves and property? I for one will be willing to double my tax and have every one else happy and comfortable.

A great many try to persuade farmers that it will lessen the price of their grain, which is a great error. Farmer do you know that the money expended for whiskey would bread this whole nation and more too?

Taking this as a basis, suppose the amendment throughout the United States should carry, would not the poor have extra what they expended for rum, and the time they occupy while on sprees, to make their homes happy and comfortable, would they not live better, instead of starvation staring them in the face all the while? They would have everything full and plenty, thereby purchasing more bread, potatoes, &c. of you for their families. It would not only raise the price of grain, but it would give you a better market. For instance, what signifies a farmer driving up to a drunkard's house to sell something and feed them without money. It would be rather a poor market, but transform that drunkard into a sober, industrious man, and he has money to purchase of you, and you find a market. Again you say, it deprives me of my personal liberty, I ask in what way? Do you know in what personal liberty consists? I answer, it consists in just so far as I am protected; for example, my life in a barbarous nation does not amount to much, my liberty is limited because I have no protection, but you place me in a civilized nation and give me all the protection I need, and my liberty is almost unlimited, and I feel free to go where I please, because the laws serve as a body guard. Now may I ask what are laws for, to keep down all crimes, vices and evils in the land, consequently the better laws we have, the better state of civilization we attain to, and the more civilization is elevated, the more liberty I have. And as we have already proven that whiskey is an evil, and the cause of a great many crimes, we should have a law sufficient to prohibit the manufacture and sale thereof, as a beverage. But you say that destroys my liberty. Do you think that liberty means for each and all of us to go and do as we please. Mr. A is arrested for stealing and sent to the peaintentiary, and he proclaims that you are taking away his liberty by imprisoning him Mr. B commits murder and is sentenced to be executed, and he protests, saying "don't hang me, you are depriving me of my liberty." Mr. C declares he would rather see his right arm severed from his body than give up whiskey. Is not this man under the most abject slavery and bondage, do you call this liberty. And now when we insist to have a law to prohibit another evil, you say that we are taking away your liberty. God forbid, you say it is unconstitutional. Is it wise for you and me to compare our judgments with such men as the supreme judges of the United States, when seven out of eight voted and declared that it was constitutional. Then again, when a man is sober and clear headed, he is himself, and has the liberty to go and not as he desires, but you fill him with rum and he is indolent, thick headed, not capable of attending to business, and he is in the power of the rum seller, yes, but you say, I have no right to say what you shall eat, drink or wear providing you steal it, and this is what thousands are doing daily, stealing the clothes and food that should go to the support of their families, and expending it for rum. I protest again that I have a perfect right to, and a duty I owe to suffering humanity, to say what they shall drink, and above all this is a duty I owe to God.

Others say that I can take care of myself, and every other person can do the same, and it is none of my business what others do. If they wish to kill themselves with whiskey that is their lookout, but pause a moment. Cain said: "Am I my brother's keeper." Is there not then a great responsibility resting upon us. There are hundreds, yea, thousands of drunkards say they will vote for the amendment, because as long as it is at my next door my ravenous and craving appetite will have it, but exterminate it and I can do without it, and they reach out their hands and cry for us to come and help them. Now if I refused to go to their rescue I would be a very indolent and selfish sort of a man, I will go feeling that my conscience is clear.

You also state that you ignore drunkenness, but you believe in drinking, with moderation and decency, and not to excess.

Perhaps you can do so, but we are not all constituted alike, and the majority of people cannot, it is utterly impossible for them to control their appetites, this is why we are willing to aid them. My friend finishes by saying the definition of temperance is moderate indulgence of the appetite, moderate, sober. May I then ask if it is possible for a man to indulge in the liquor made to-day and remain sober. But the word temperance is not what we are advocating, it is the word prohibition. Please give us the definition of this.

Others say it is not right to deprive a man of his licence after allowing him to go to the expense of improving his property, and building breweries, &c. Now the absurdity of such an argument, while the law legalized him the right to obtain wealth and increase the valuation of his property, it also legalized him the right to decrease the valuation of his customers property, rendering some entirely penniless, and others homeless. Now while the law had a right to do this, it has on the other hand the same right to reverse it, to legalize a law that will increase the valuation of these hundred homes, and decrease the valuation of the landlords property. For illustration, suppose the liquor men have gone to so much unnecessary expense on buildings and property, for the purpose of degrading humanity, causing the rich to shorten their days, and the poor to become poorer. Does not the burglar go to an unnecessary expense, to equip himself with the finest tools to steal our hard earnings, and make us poorer. We might as well say it is unconstitusional and not right for us to deprive the burglar the use of his tools to rob people, as for you to say it is unconstitutional and not right to deprive the liquor men of the right to manufacture and sell alcohol in these buildings, to steal our daily earnings, from our families who depend upon us for their support and not the liquor men. They stand not on equal footing, for the burglar has the preference in the argument.

Again the Bible says, 'Habakkuk 2-15' "cursed is he that putteth the bottle to his neighbor's lips, there are different ways of doing this, it can be done by the usual way of treating at the bar, or in handing him a bottle, or it can be done by signing a landlord's license, thereby deputizing him to do it for you, and lastly it can be done at the ballot of the coming election. Every voter that places a vote for whiskey, places the bottle to his neighbor's lips, by enacting laws that deputize others to do it. On which side do you stand, come to the front, or summing it all up in a nut shell, is whiskey as we now have it an evil and a curse, or a benefit and good to the community and country? Did you ever think that every ballot you cast for whiskey, you are virtually taking or causing to be taken hundreds and thousands of lives, thereby making you a wholesale murderer, in the full sense of the word, by becoming accessory before the fact. It is admitted by all that thousands of men kill thousands annually using liquor. A man before he commits murder, theft, or any crime, desires a stimulant, for his courage fails him, his conscience checks him in his cruel intentions, but the devil steps forward with his stimulant, and an awful crime is perpetrated. Reader you see it in almost every crime, and the amount of crimes it causes would astonish you, to say nothing about the misery and wretchedness it is daily the instigator of. Did you ever see it in any good cause, yes, you say some church members drink it, just so, the devil is in the church as well as outside, he sometimes accomplishes more in the church than elsewhere. A man can belong to the church without a spark of christianity in him, and still remain the devils best friend, in order to get his bitters.

Some cry that it is going to take a great industry from our country. I will give you statistics showing how much of an industry it is. There is $85,828,000 expended yearly for drink in Pa. and in exchange we receive $1,-759,474 as wages for the manufacture of the same. Now you expend this same amount $85,828,000 for the necessaries of life, and in exchange you will receive as wages $12,118,913 or seven times the amount you are now receiving from this so called great industry.

This miserable license, what is it? It does not give protection from the saloon, but it does protect and tends to perpetrate the saloon.

It does not restrict the amount of liquid poison sold, but it does give a monopoly and legal sanction to the business of selling the poison, and in this way increases consumption.

It is not the enemy of the saloon, but it is the enemy of the homes of the people, It is a screen through which a grasping monopoly of unscrupulous men, combined on a large scale to attract the people through costly and fascinating allurements, into their dens of pollution and maelstroms of death and destruction. It is a permit and a monopoly to vicious men, to poison and kill their victims.

But on the other hand Prohibition is to exterminate this terrible snare and monopoly of abomination.

Keep the ball moving, the more it rolls, the more votes it gathers.

Wanted to Jine.

HOW A TAR HEEL'S MORMON TRIP WAS INTERRUPTED.

From the Detroit Free Press.

While waiting at a station in North Carolina one day I was joined by a man who carried an old-fashioned satchel on his shoulder, and who had evidently walked many miles through the mud. He was fully sixty years of age, scrawny and homely, and he simply nodded to me and sat down on a bale of cotton. In about ten minutes along came a woman in homespun fully his age and about as homely. She had also had a long walk. She nodded to me and sat down on another cotton bale. Not a word was said between us for ten minutes. Then as the whistle of the train was heard in the distance she said to the man:

"Then, Jim, you ar' gwine off ter jine the Mormons?"

"I am, Hannah," he replied.

"An' you won't take me?"

"No."

"And I'm to be left?"

"Yes."

"And it won't do no good to argufy?"

"Not a bit."

"Wall, then, good-bye to you."

She started forward with extended arm, but passed his hand and seized the satchel and flung it thirty feet away. Then she grabbed him by the hair and they went off the platform into a mud hole together, and as the train moved away she was on top and jamming his head into the old-gold soil and saying between the jams:

"Want to jine the Mormons, do you? Want to leave the old wife who's dun lived with you forty years. Want to jine—jine—jine, you old rascal, you?"

And fifty passengers gave her three cheers and a tiger as she got a new hold on his patriarchal whiskers.

Seeing How it is Done.

Some time ago when Janisch, the pretty Austrian actress, was playing in New Orleans, she visited one of the engine houses. It was proposed for her especial benefit to call out the fire company as in regular answer to an alarm. The madame was invited to a seat on the hose carriage, where she could better watch the firemen as they slid down the pole into their places on the engine. All unconscious she lifted her dainty skirts and climbed up into a seat. The alarm was sounded, the fireman came tumbling down, the big horses sprang into their places and before Janisch could say "Jack Robinson" she was whirled out of the engine house and up St. Charles avenue, clinging to the driver and shrieking "Mon Dieu!" at the top of her voice. The experience was altogether a genuine surprise to the actress and one that she will not likely forget.—New Orleans Picayune.

"Thump-rattlety-bang" went the piano

"What are you trying to play, Jane?" called out her father from the next room

"It's an exercise from my new instruction book. First step in music," she answered.

"Well, I thought you were playing with your feet," he said grimly; "don't step so heavy on the keys, it disturbs my thought."

Fortunate Father and son.

"I am as certain as I now live," says Bartholomew, of Kalkaska, Mich., "that Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy of Rondout, N. Y., saved my life when I was a victim of that renal disorder—Brights disease. My son had a fever sore on his leg. He, too used Favorite Remedy, and is now well. But for this medicine I am sure both father and son would have been six feet under the sod. 4-26 4t

Perhaps no newspaper writer was ever more disturbed by a trifle than was the society reporter who, in describing the belle of a recent fashionable party, intended to say, "She looked as fair," but found that an unfeeling blacksmith had made it, "She looked all feet."

365 people from the wrecked steamer Danmark arrived in Philadelphia Monday evening on the ship Missouri. All of the Danmark passengers looked hearty and bright and showed no signs of the hardships they must have endured.

Prohibition was defeated in Massachusetts by a majority of nearly 50,000, on Tuesday. They voted on a constitutional amendment, the same as Pennsylvania will do in June. New Hamshire rejected such an amendment a few weeks ago, and Rhode Island, which adopted the amendment a couple of years ago, is taking steps to have it repealed. Prohibition does not appear to be popular among the Puritans who have tried it up in New England.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, April 21, 1889

Senator John Sherman and the other Republicans of the Ohio Congressional delegation are at dagger points. The Senator, with his usual greediness, wants the other fellows to allow him to name the Ohio men who shall have federal patronage. This one sided way of giving the prizes is strongly objected to by Congressmen McKinley, Butterworth, Burton and others who have friends they wish to provide for, and the result is that Ohio is getting left in the distribution of political pap.

Among the disgusted Ohio Republicans is Alphonse Hart, who came here prepared to go to work as Solicitor of Internal Revenue, a position which he says Attorney General Miller tendered him and which he accepted several weeks ago. But he has not gone to work, owing to the objection of a man greater than "me too" Miller. Boss Quay has a man whom he wishes put into that position, but nothing has yet been done, and as Quay is said to have gone home in a pet last week, perhaps Hart will get it after all.

The new Republican officials are very prompt in getting sworn in, so as to let their salaries begin. Then they take their own time in beginning to work. I was forcibly reminded of this when Robert P. Porter, editor of the New York Press, turned up here two days after he was appointed Superintendent of the Census, was sworn in, rushed down, caught on an afternoon train and returned to his private business in New York city. By the way, Porter is one of the most rabid advocates of a protective tariff, is an Englishman, and is said to have writen just as rabidly in favor of free trade until he was brought over by the protectionists. If Mr. Cleveland had appointed an Englishman to as important a position as this, all the Republican papers in the country would have been yelping at him and charging him with all sorts of crimes. But then you see it makes a great difference whose ox is gored.

The notorious colored ex-Congressman Smalls, of South Carolina, came very near to being the first negro appointed to office by President Harrison, and he may be yet the first. He is an applicant for the position of Collector of Customs at Beaufort, South Carolina, and it has been about decided to appoint him when a telegram was received from his state asking that the matter be held up until certain charges against Mr. Smalls could be submitted to the President. If the latter thinks to strengthen his party in the south by appointing such men as Smalls to office he is sadly misinformed as to the status of public opinion in that section

Representative Henry Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts, is a very fortunate man. He says: "I am not over burdened by office-seekers. The people of my state do not seem to be anxious for much. In my district there has not been a single endeavor to remove even a Postmaster."

All the arrangements have been completed for the trip of the President and Cabinet to New York next Monday, to take part in the Centennial Celebration. They leave here at a very early hour, arriving at Elizabeth, N. J. in time to take breakfast with the Governor of New Jersey. They then go to Elizabethport where they take boats which are to take them over exactly the same route that George Washington went just one hundred years ago.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Tichenor is mad, he is in fact very mad, and does not care who knows it. He had a candidate for the position of appraiser of the port of New York and the President appointed another fellow. The only consolation that Mr. Tichenor has is the fact that the appointment does not please the New York Senators any better than it does himself.

For years it has been the custom to consider the four years commissions of Federal officials as beginning from the date of their confirmation. Now, in order to make vacancies, the Republican Congressmen are bringing pressure to bear on President Harrison to have an order issued to consider these commissions as dating from the original appointment. The President has referred the question to "me too" Miller for an opinion, and the chances are that all those officials appointed by Mr. Cleveland in the Sring and Summer of 1885 will find out that their commissions are considered as having expired, notwithstanding that it was in some cases a year after appointment before the Senate confirmed them. The Republicans want the offices and not having any good excuse for removing the incumbents they have hit upon this scheme.

The Inter State Commerce Commission has notified the officers of all the railroads in the middle and eastern states to appear before the Commission on May 23dand set forth the persons and classes of persons, if any, to whom each of them has issued free passes or free transportation to persons other than its own officers or employes and the officers and employes of other railroad companies, and all the conditions and limitations connected therewith in each instance, and how they do this branch of business.

Just Married.

How loving they are; this is always a sure sign. After the first year sometimes it don't hold good. When Charles comes home to you grouty and cross, snappingand snarling, unable to relish the nice dinner you have cooked, and feels as though there was a ton of pig iron in his stomach, he is troubled with dyspepsia, and Sulphur Bitters is the only medicine that will cure him.

The small pox is raging at Nanticoke and no measures are being taken to prevent its spread owing to a deadlock in the borough council. In such a case it would be blessing if the dicease should break the deadlock by attacking the obstinate members of the council.

Home Evidence

No other preparation has won success at home equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla. In Lowell, Mass., where it is made, it is now, as it has been for years, the leading medicine for purifying the blood, and toning and strengthening the system. This "good name at home" is "a tower of strength abroad."

People of Lowell

It would require a volume to print all Lowell people have said in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Mr. Albert Eates, living at 28 East Pine Street, Lowell, for 15 years employed as boss carpenter by J. W. Bennett, president of the Erie Telephone Company, had a large running sore come on his leg, which troubled him a year, when he began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. The sore soon grew less in size, and in a short time disappeared.

Jos. Dunphy, 214 Central Street, Lowell, had swellings and lumps on his face and neck, which Hood's Sarsaparilla completely cured.

Praise Hood's Sarsaparilla

Mrs. C. W. Marriott, wife of the First Assistant Fire Engineer of Lowell, says that for 16 years she was troubled with stomach disorder and sick headache, which nothing relieved. The attacks came on every fortnight, when she was obliged to take her bed, and was unable to endure any noise. She took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and after a time the attacks ceased entirely.

Many more might be given had we room. On the recommendation of people of Lowell, who know us, we ask you to try

In consequence of winter diet and lack of open air exercise, the whole physical mechanism becomes impaired. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the proper remedy, in the spring of the year, to strengthen the appetite, invigorate the system, and expel all impurities from the blood.

There is a little dwarf hairy elephant, itself a great living curiosity, which actually rides a bicycle in Barnum & Bailey's Greatest Show on earth to the amazement and delight of the children. Subsequently, together with a pretty little Shetland pony, the elephant sits at a table with his pony companion, and both are served in a mad-cap style by a large trained monkey acting in the capacity of waiter. It is a very unique and clever exhibition of the remarkable manner in which many animals have been trained to perform in Barnum and Bailey's Greatest Show on Earth, which will come here on May 11th.

It may not be generally known that there is a society in Bloomsburg composed entirely of Veterans who enlisted before July 1st, 1863, and served at least two years, unless discharged for wounds received in service. Barnum and London Fifteen New United Shows.

FIVE NEW SHOWS ADDED THIS YEAR—SOME OF THE WONDERFUL THINGS TO BE SEEN.

Among the chief things to be exhibited this year by the Barnum and London 15 United shows, and which have been especially imported at great expense from distant foreign countries, is a grand real wild Moorish Caravan, with male and female natives of the countries located adjacent to Barbary, and comprising Moors, Algerians, Bedouins, Bayaderes, Oulad-Naels, Arabs and others, together with all their warriors, horses, weapons, costumes, slaves, attendants, musical instruments, domestic utensils, charming dancing girls, high-priests, soothsayers, herders, tents of animal skins, and everything necessary to illustrate the lives of these remarkable people who have existed on the desert of Sahara in a nomadic state since the days of Solomon the Great. Another new feature is the Paris Olympia Hippodrome, purchased in Paris especially for these shows, and in which will be run a series of novel and thrilling races, such as four-horse Roman standing races, four-horse chariot races, races by trotting steers, giraffes, ostriches, moose, sacred cattle, elephants, camels, ponies, flying pelican race, English whippet race, and others. There are besides other new attractions, such as a real horse fair with actually 380 first-premium horses, the wonderful black tent teeming with chaste, weird, and supernatural illusions produced by the aid of a modern scientific methods by a famous magician, the talking seals, the elevated circular stage performances, the double menageries, museum of wonders, performances in three rings, the mid. air artists, the celebrated imported female riders, 7 open dens of trained beasts, 20 four-footed clowns, 20 pantomimic clowns, and in fact everything that could be procured by the expenditure of large sums is to be found within its mammoth tents. Three circus companies render 125 startling acts. All the tents will remain up until 9 at night and the night performances will be precisely the same as those of the afternoon. No peddling will be permitted on the seats. The new street parade with its elegant costumes, new chariots, 12 kinds of music, full military bands, etc., will take place every day at 9 a m., rain or shine. The shows will exhibit here just as they did in New York, on May 11th.

Church News.

(Under this head will be inserted, free of charge, all matters connected with the churches of the county. Special meetings, change of pastor, improvements or injuries to property, and any thing of public interest about churches of all denominations, is invited. Pastors are specially requested to send in their reports.)

The Rev. Isaac M. Patterson will be installed as pastor of the Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening the 15th of May. It is expected that the Rev. W. Dayton Roberts, of the Temple Presbyterian church in Philadelphia will preach on the occasion. The Rev. Drs. Nesbit of Lock Haven, and Dean of Muncy, together with Dr. Stuart Mitchell, the late pastor, will take part in the services, as well as resident minister.

Services will be held in accordance with the President's recommendation in the Presbyterian church in this place, on the 30th inst. It is fitting that God's great goodness to the American people, during the first century of their existence as a nation should be acknowledged with thanksgiving, and his special blessing sought in the commencement of the second.

If you want the latest style in men's boy's and children's wear go to Lowenberg.

Barnum's advertisement car arrived at this place last Saturday and the region about Bloomsburg has been flooded with circulars and posters announcing the coming of the 15 new united shows.

Thursday of last week at a school children's picnic party near town one of the boys found a turtle with James Pugh's name and the date 1875 carved on its back. The turtle had evidently been roaming about the same spot for about sixteen years.

For the delicate and aged and all in whom the vital current is impoverished and sluggish, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the very best tonic. It restores the wasted tissues, and imparts to the system surprising elasticity and vigor. Price $1. Worth $5 a bottle.

The Bloomsburg & Sullivan Railroad Company have arranged to run extra trains on Saturday, May 11th, 1889, to accommodate all persons desiring to attend the Barnum and Bailey shows. An extra train will leave Jamison City 7:30 a. m., arriving at Bloomsburg 9:20 a. m. in time for the parade which takes place about 10 a. m. and the returning extra train will leave Bloomsburg 11 p. m. immediately after the evening performance has closed. Excursion tickets will be sold, good on all trains. Copy of details of B. & S. trains will be found elsewhere in this paper.

East Benton.

Think you not farmers that if the 70 millions of dollars in Pennsylvania annually wasted for rum that impoverishes thousands and thousands of families, robbing them of peace, happiness, and the necessaries of life, were turned into the proper channels of trade that the merchant, mechanic, laboring men and farmer would receive such a refreshing of profits in all departments of business that the financial depressions so frequent and disastrous would not only be remedied, but a thing altogether of the past.

Mrs. Nathan Keefer of Ashley is visiting in this neighborhood. She is John Ashleman's daughter.

Rev. S. P. Boone will preach on the proposed amendment question at Hamiline Sunday 10:30 a. m., April 28.

Wm. H Fisher of Main township put up a section of "Grove's patent fence, rail and portable," at our place as a sample. All who have examined it pronounce it a first class fence.

Council Proceedings.

A special meeting, Friday April 19, 1889, at the call of the president. Present: President Harman, Messrs. Fetterman, Gross, Ringler, Schwinn and Yost.

President stated object of meeting to be to take steps toward fixing tax rate and have that matter disposed of instead of leaving it until later in the summer as had been customary heretofore. He suggested that a rate be proposed, laid over, and adopted at next meeting. Council should also consider the matter of purchasing some stone as they had none on hand and it could not be had on short notice.

Mr. Gross gave notice that he would propose a tax rate of six mills at next meeting.

On motion John Q. Barkley, C. C. Kesty and Wm. Lemons were appointed additional policemen.

On motion of Mr. Gross the committee on streets, alleys and materials shall have entire supervision of all work done on the streets and alleys and that the Commissioner of highways be notified that all work contemplated must have the approval of said committee.

President Harman appointed the following standing committees:

Fire, water and gas—Louis Gross, E. C. Wells, R. H. Ringler.

Finance—E. C. Wells, R. H. Ringler, Louis Gross.

Board of health—Louis Gross, Joshua Fetterman, Isaac Yost.

Building permits were granted to Wm. L. Girton, Wesley Knorr and Weaver & Knorr, contractors for Joseph Chrisman. Messrs. Gross, Fetterman and Ringler were appointed a committee to purchase a desk for Council room.

The bond of Treasurer-elect James S. Wilson was presented, read and on motion was approved and ordered filed. Mr. Wilson was then sworn in by the president.

On motion a book was ordered made as per draft of same prepared by the Secretary for the registration of dogs. Adjourned.

The selection of sacred music which the young men's orchestra had so appropriately made for the Easter services of St. Paul's Sunday School, was most beautifully rendered last Sunday evening. Not only the Rector and his Sunday School, but all who were in the church at this service surely enjoyed and appreciated it. This was a fitting sequel to the delightful music which had been furnished at the earlier services of the day.

The three services at the Episcopal Church were well attended on Easter Sunday. At the second service, Rev. W. C. Leverett announced that the church was out of debt, he held in his hand receipted bills in full, and after some earnest remarks on the subject of keeping out of debt, he placed the receipts amounting to $950, on the altar, while the congregation arose and sang the Doxology. It was an impressive occasion.

WANAMAKER'S.

PHILADELPHIA, Monday, April 22, 1889.

The Spring and Summer Catalogue (illustrated) is ready. It will help you in ordering by mail. The book will be sent free if you ask for it on a postal card.

It needs to be repeated and remembered that in all goods, and most emphatically in dress goods, not only is the stock we show the most complete in the world, but the prices are always as low or less than the market. We couldn't afford to have it otherwise.

The effort is frequently made to misrepresent our policy in respect to staple and medium goods. We keep no trash. We do keep everything in Dress Goods that a self-respecting and complete dry goods house should have. You can buy plain staples here at the least, and can find the greatest variety.

We hold and have held the only worthy stock of Glioriosa. Mohairs—Gloriosa so called—have been sold for them at lower prices. Perhaps you've bought them. Had you come here you could have seen Glosiosa and the whole range of Mohairs, each called correctly by name and at proper prices.

The same is true of many other things. Sound reasoning says that you cannot afford to ignore Wanamaker's on anything Wanamaker's have for sale.

A choice pattern of 40-inch all-wool Black Veiling, 50c! One straw from the whole Dress Goods price-sheaf.

Black Surah at 50 and 60 cents a yard, and Black Satin Soleil, a wear well dress-silk, at $1, are the Silk bargains of the hour.

We need to say that sub rosa, else the bargain Indias might be provoked—they are cheap at 75 cents and $1.

But it is the elegance, the completeness, the general excellence and superiority of the Silk stock of which we boast. You know it, as your purchases show. Ere long we shall have even greater cause for boasting—and you for buying.

Don't forget what we told you before—the Museum for Ginghams is here—more than a thousand styles. The best of Scotland and New England—the cheapest in Philadelphia.

In almost every case Baby Coach prices are less than last year, and for better qualities at that. All of the higher grades are very much less in price. A remarkably good Carriage for $6; satin lined and some gew-gaws, $9; beribboned, cushioned and parasoled, $11.25; special, shell body, and all the needed agonies, $20. As much better as you care to pay for. All the sorts (maybe fifty of them) are where you can glance them over in five minutes.

Not a bit too soon to think of the Summer Bed Clothes.

Summer Blankets, like a film of wool, warmth without weight. Single, $3.50; double, $5 and $6.

Old-fashioned Dimity Spreads, 65c to $1.20.

Our most popular Summer Spread last season was the "Pique." Same weight as Dimity, but prettier. Four neat block patterns, double bed size, $1.

Colored Cheese-cloth comfortables, to mellow the mattress with or take edge from chill air. $2 each.

The best $3 shoe for men is the "Wanamaker Wearwell." they're made of tanned calf seamless vamp, genuine Dongola kid top, solid leather insole and half double sole, solid leather counter. Put together to stay. Perfectly smooth insole; no tacks or nails or thread to harrow up your sole. As easy on the inside as a hand sewed shoe. Every pair warranted. Four styles:

Laced, capped toe
Laced, plain toe
Congress, plain toe
Button, plain toe

Sent anywhere for $3. Send your number and width.

Important to Railroad Men.

A. E. Smith has been for forty-nine years road master on the Boston and Maine system, and is now residing at Great Falls, N. H. He says trackmen, brakemen, firemen, engineers and conductors, as well as baggage masters and expressmen, are subject to kidney disease above all others. All, therefore, will be interested in the statement of his experience. "I have used Brown's Sarsaparilla for kidney and liver troubles, and can truly say it has done more for me than all the doctors I ever employed, and I have had occasion to require the services of the best physicians in the State. My wife also has been greatly benefited by its use.

A. E. SMITH,
Road Master B. & M. R. R."

The kidneys have been labored hard all winter as the pores of the skin have been closed, but now the springtime has come, and they need some aid. Maybe you have that pain across the back; that tired feeling; those drawing down pains. If so, you can get immediate relief by following the example of Mr. Smith and his wife, and use that never failing and grand corrector for the kidneys, liver and blood,

Origin of "Uncle Sam."

Speculation has recently arisen regarding the origin of the term "Uncle Sam" as applied to the United States government.

In the war of 1812, between this country and Great Britian, Elbert Anderson, of New York, purchased in Troy, N. Y., a large amount of pork for the American army.

It was inspected by Samuel Wilson, who was popularly known as "Uncle Sam." The barrels of pork were marked "E. A., U. S," the lettering being done by a facetious employe of Mr. Wilson.

When asked by fellow-workmen the meaning of the mark (for the letters U. S. for United States, were then al most new to them), said "he did not know, unless it meant Elbert Anderson and Uncle Sam," alluding to Uncle Sam Wilson.

The joke took among the workmen, and passed currently, and "Uncle Sam" himself being present, was occasionally rallied on the increasing extent of his possessions. Soon the incident appeared in print, and the joke gained favor rapidly, till it was penetrated and was recognized in every part of the country, and, says John Frost, the Boston historian, will no doubt continue so while the United States remains a nation.

It is now firmly embedded in the Mosaic of our language, like "Tippecanoe" "Log Cabin," and other short but expressive phrases, which refer to important events in the history of the Republic. Both "Tippecanoe" and "Log Cabin" have taken on renewed force and vitality since their adoption by Hon. H. H. Warner, of Safe Cure fame, in the naming of two of his great standard remedies, the principal one known as Warner's Log Cabin Sarsaparilla. They are based upon formulæ so successfully used by our ancestors in the cure of the common ailments to which their arduous labors rendered them liable in the good old Log Cabin days.

The names of Warner's Safe Cure, likewise, will be held in high esteem, as familiar as a household word, while it continues to cure the worst forms of Kidney Disease, which the medical profession confesses itself unable to do.

Against Prohibition.

EDITORS COLUMBIAN.

Dear Sir.:

In purusing the columns of your last weeks issue I found a letter from Central signed I. Burt Hess. His first effort in trying to defend the preachers in preaching prohibition. I think he had better leave them answer for themselves. If it is right they certainly can show it. If wrong they don't want to show their hypocrisy. I have shown in my former letter that prohibition was not taught in the last will and testament of our Lord Jesus Christ, and for preachers to preach that now, they are preaching another gospel. What does the great Apostle to the Gentiles say on that subject? Now listen to the words of the Holy Spirit. "Though we, "the apostles" or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed." As we said before, so say I now again, if any man preach any other gospel unto you than that ye have received let him be accursed. Fearful responsibility. Yet we have men that say they are called and sent of the Holy Spirit, following after old women's fables and the W. C. T. U.

In the name of heavens what do they want more than the word of God? Paul says in Hebrews 4–12 that the word of God is quick and powerful, and sharper than any two edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart.

Mr. Hess, what more is needed? John, the great revelator in summing up his prophecy says: "For I testify unto every man that heareth the words of this prophecy of this book. If any man shall add unto these things, God shall add unto him the plagues that are written in this book, and if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy God shall take away his part out of the book of life and one of the holy city, and from the things which are written in this book." Rev. 22-18 19. "For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine, but after their own lusts shall they heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears, and they shall turn away their ears from the truth, and shall be turned unto fables." Mr. Hess, if those times are not upon us now as predicted by Paul, then I pity the generation on whom they will fall. We have preachers whose ears are itching for notoriety outside of the gospel. Do you know what they want? Power, not from on high but from the prohibition party, and if through their influence the prohibition party goes into power, they will say to the leaders: "Sirs, we have an ax to grind we want you to use your influence for us and help us unite church and state."

How would you like that, Mr. Hess? Then you would have to support the successful church whether you believed in their dogmas or not. Secondly, Mr. Hess says, to successfully preach the gospel, sin in its various forms should be preached to men. I believe that. Now what is sinful in drinking? Why using it to excess, getting drunk. The preacher's duty is to tell his hearers to be temperate in eating as well as drinking. If they understand the Scripture they will so teach. He says there is no middle ground to occupy in this question. Then all men are extremists, then according to his teaching Christ and the Holy Spirit were mistaken when they told their followers to be temperate in all things. Wonderful wisdom, stupendous reasoning.

He further says that if we vote against prohibition we will become responsible for drunkenness. Far from it. The same reasoning would make us responsible for suicides, because we did not vote to take away pistol, the rope and the razor from the people. They are all well in their places when properly used. He said I overlooked the declaration, "if eating meat causeth my brother to offend I'll eat no meat." Paul was talking about obtaining from meats offered to idols and has no bearing on the question before us. All of the brethren that partook of my hospitality took kindly to meat, and we had no trouble on that score.

Mr. Hess what would you think of a man that would hunt up an old will that was respected by the court and try to get possession of a certain estate, when you knew that a later will was in force? Methinks you would say that that man had lost his balance. Now sir, the position you took in going back to the old Jewish law to prove your declarations is just a simple. The old Jewish law was in force as long as the testator liveth; but at the death of Jesus Christ the testator, when suspended between heaven and earth, on Mount Calvary, when he cried, it is finished, and the veil of the temple was rent from top to bottom, then the old will was dead, nailed with its ordinances to the cross. Mr. Hess, why go beyond the cross? There was a time when burnt sacrifices atoned for sin. Now under the new will the blood of Jesus Christ cleanseth us from all sin. The passage you quoted, "cursed is he that putteth his bottle to his brother's mouth to make him drunk, for the woe shall not be upon him that is drunk, but upon him that maketh him drunk." I would thank you for the chapter and verse. I have searched the scriptures with the aid of a concordance and have failed to find it. Every person ought to be extremely careful how they quote Holy Writ. Never quote from memory, but from the book. I found what I think you wanted to quote, but you erred sadly. You will find it in Habakkuk 2-15 "woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink, that putteth thy bottle to him and maketh him drunk also." Now the sin was not in drinking, for wine at that day was used as a beverage throughout the civilized world. But the sin was in using it to excess, getting drunk, that is where the sin comes in to-day. There is no sin attached to eating or drinking. The Saviour says in Matthew 15 11 "not that which goeth into the mouth that defileth a man, but that which cometh out of the mouth that defileth a man." I think I have made this plain and to the point. Hoping, Mr. Hess, you will come out of Babylon, I remain,

Yours Truly,
A. J. DERR.

Two negroes have been seized with leprosy in Elberton, Ga. One has turned white, while the other has broken out in spots.

A Rochester man has opened a "boarding stable for bicycles." He takes charge of the machine while their owners are at business.

The Dacca Shakti—an India paper—avers that there is living at Baruda, near Dacca, a Yogi who is more than 150 years old. He is strong and able bodied. He talks with all.

A citizen of Hagerstown, Md., claims that the inside of a box in his possession was made of a part of the Penn treaty tree, and the outside of a part of the original coffin of Washington.

A steam yacht, built in England, lately made a remarkable voyage by sailing across the channel, up the river Seine, and thence by canals and rivers to Marseilles, on the Mediterranean sea.

Among some old papers in London recently a genuine likeness of John Bunyan as he appeared in his prison cell at Bedford has just been discovered, for which the owner demands 1,000 guineas.

The English courts hold that when a man writes asking another to "favor him with a check" for a bill the intent is that the check is to be sent by post, and the creditor is liable if the check is lost in the mails.

A New York burglar got into a genuine pickle the other day. Officers discovered that some one was feloniously at work in a butcher shop, but after they had entered could not find the man until they looked in a pork barrel, when they discovered him up to his neck in brine.

A lot of relics of the ancient cliff dwellers have been discovered in New Mexico. They consist of human remains, mummies, and a large collection of ancient pottery. Some turkey bones were found, indicating that the turkey had been domesticated by these ancient people.

Two Scotch tramps, man and wife, make a good living off of the baby. "We just gets 'im christened," explains the man, "in all the towns we passes, and then, you see, the parson makes us all comfortable wi' summat to eat and money for beds. On days orful bad we have to do 'em twice."

A Portland Ore., man refused a Chinaman ten cents, due for washing. The Mongolian closed the door and gave his delinquent customer a severe drubbing, a la Kilrain. When the police arrived all the satisfaction they gave the white man was to advise him to pay his wash bill hereafter. He will probably do so.

A little boy who lives at Sparta, Ga., met with a singular accident. In running after a robin he stepped on some object which gave his foot a sudden twist. This caused the bone in his leg to split, from the consequences of which he has suffered very much. It was some time before the cause of his troubles was found out.

A citizen of Talbotton, Ga., lost $500, and thought he had dropped it in the barber shop of Alfred Douglass. The barber could not find it there, and, fearing that he would be arrested and imprisoned on suspicion, fled to Alabama. Meanwhile an old negro found the money and returned it to the owner, and then the scared barber came home.

A firm of great genius has offered the British government an immense sum for the use of the national postage stamp for advertising purposes. The advertisement is to be printed on the back of the stamp before the gum is put on, so that the purchaser of every stamp must see the announcement before he moistens the gum. This is an Australian idea.

An Imperative Necessity.

What pure air is to an unhealthy locality, what spring cleaning is to the neat house-keeper, so is Hood's Sarsaparilla to everybody, at this season. The body needs to be thoroughly renovated, the blood purified and vitalized, the germs of disease destroyed. Scrofula, Salt Rheum, and all other blood disorders are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, the most popular and successful spring medicine.

School Teacher (irate)—Who fired that spit ball at me? I'll cane him.

Young Kentuckian (country boy, 6 feet 5)—I did, sir.

School Teacher— Humph! Well—er—er—don't do it again.

Dan Rice's Old Trick Horse.

Died, at the farm of Dr. Campbell, near this city, Sunday afternoon, Jimmie, in the 42d year of his age. Jimmie was only a horse, but one around which many pleasant memories of bygone days cling. He was the first horse owned and trained by Dan Rice, the veteran circus man, and was the one used by Rice when he ran the famous "One-horse Circus." P. T. Barnum owned him for three years, when he was retired from professional duties, and ultimately became the property of the late Dr. Campbell. Even at his extreme old age he could still do several of his old tricks, and seemed delighted in performing them. He was the means of affording amusement to many of our citizens in their youthful days, and if their is a heaven for dumb beasts, all unite in wishing for Jimmie a safe haven therein.—Paris Kentuckian.

"My friend," said a solemn man, "have you ever done aught to make the community in which you live the better for your living in it?"

"I have done much, sir," replied the other humbly, "to purify the homes of my fellow beings."

"Ah," continued the solemn man, with a pleased look, "you distribute tracts?"

"No, I clean carpets."

A New York Jeweler has sent some wonderful brooches to the Paris exposition. They are gold enameled orchids, of fifteen varieties, each as perfect in its way as the product of nature. The stems are made green with emeralds. The coloring of the leaves is marvelous beyond description, testifying to the extraordinary skill of the designer as well as the artistic sense and exquisite taste of the enameler.

In the largest jeweler shop in New York, where $5,000 worth of gold is used a day, the gold is not weighed out to the workmen, and nothing but the honesty of the employes prevents loss. But while the gold is allowed to be thus exposed, tobacco has to be locked up, because it has been found that the man who would not steal a grain of his employer's gold would not hesitate to appropriate his neighbor's tobacco.

Leader of Arizona Regulators—If you have anything to say before we string you up we will give you five minutes.

Victim—You are about to lynch an innocent man, gentlemen. Upon my soul, you are! I am not a horse thief, but an honest man that works for a living. I am a Tucson cigar manufacturer. Ask Col. Allgore if I ain't.

Leader—Did you make those cigars that Col. Allgore was handing round among the boys just before election?

Victim (eagerly)—I did sir.

Leader (sternly)—String him up, boys!

Smith—Hello, Jones! Back from Southern California? What luck in the gold region?

Jones — Rather discouraging. I picked up about $1,000 worth of solid boodle a day, and paid out $999 for grub.

Bright's Disease.

A Ten-Year-Old Child Saved After the Failure of Four Physicians.

My little girl, ten years of age, was taken sick in March, 1886, with scarlet fever. When recovering she took a severe cold, which developed Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Her ankles, feet and eyes were terribly swollen; she had a burning fever, and all the symptoms of an aggravated case of Bright's Disease. Four of our best physicians attended her, but without success, and

Her Life was Despaired of.

But a mother's love and prayers surmount all difficulties, and I determined to try Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, made at Rondout, N. Y. This was a last resort, and I hoped, although my little daughter's case was a very severe one, that the Favorite Remedy would do for her what it had done for others whose condition had not been, seemingly, as hopeless. How happy I am that I determined upon this course, for an improvement was at once perceptible. The fever left her—her appetite improved—she gained six pounds in a short time, and one by one the well known and dreaded symptoms of the disease left her. Words fail to express my gratitude, and I cannot too earnestly recommend the Favorite Remedy. It was and is due entirely to the Favorite Remedy, which was the only medicine taken after her case was abandoned by the physicians.

Mrs. Laura A. Kempton, West Rutland, Vermont

The diseases that follow Scarlet Fever, Measles, Diphtheria and various other complaints often leave behind them sequelæ of the most dangerous character. To expel all traces of such disorders, tone up the various organs, and fill the veins with pure and nutritious blood, use Dr. David Kennedy's

In France experiments are being made with coke car springs.

Iron railroad ties have been in use almost a year, but owing to their not having the elasticity necessary for the "giving" of the rails, they have not proven a success.

About 3,000 brakes have been invented and patented. One of the latest is described as beautifully simple in its working. Push a button and the brakes are set on the entire train.

France, Austria and Germany have adopted smokeless gunpowder for their armies, and are now experimenting to get an explosive which shall also be noiseless. The endeavor has been fairly successful, and experts say that by the time the next European war begins the noise and smoke of battle will be done away with.

Hints That are Better than Gold.

If you have bad breath, sluggish bowels, pain in the small of your back, nervousness or giddiness, your vital organs are sadly out of condition. A mere "dose of physic" will not help you. Our Tell Tale Hands.

The white hand proclaims innocense, the red hand guilt.

The thumbs of the dying turn in under the fingers, as if conscious that their work is done.

A hand that is firm and solid foretells a good constitution and a patient and preserving mind.

The laying on of hands is an old custom believed to have peculiar value in curing disease by faith.

Newton declared that in want of other proofs the thumb would convince him of the existence of a God.

ALL competent authorities say Bright's Disease has no symptoms of its own, but presents the symptoms of other affections. Warner's Safe Cure is universally recognized as a specific for Bright's Disease. That is why it cures so many other diseases, which are caused by the kidney affection. It restores the kidneys to healthy action.

Boastful Dude—I am glad you admire my scarf pin. The stone has a history. It was intimately associated with an ancient Hindoo family.

Cynical Friend (examining the stone critically)—One of the windows of its palace, I suppose?

Boston Man—Talk about style or culture in New York! We have in Boston a Norwegian prince in the millinery business and several fashionable tailors who head their circulars and letter heads with quotations from Emerson!

New York Man (with interest)—I am glad to hear of them. When we have completed our arrangements for annexing Boston to New York we expect, of course, to learn all about our suburban curiosities.

CATARRH,

Catarrhal Deafness and Hay Fever.

A NEW HOME TREATMENT.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever are permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks. N. B.—For catarrhal discharges peculiar to females (whites) this remedy is a specific. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent on receipt of ten cents by A. H. DIXON & SON, 304 West King St., Toronto, Canada.—Scientific American.

TATE SPRINGS, TENN., July 4, 1882.
The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.:

Gentlemen—Seven years ago I contracted an exceedingly bad case of blood poison. I tried a physician, the best at command, but secured no benefit. My throat began to get sore, and my body covered with sores and ulcers. Going from bad to worse, I felt that my grave must be reached in the near future. I gave up the doctors' treatment, and with a despairing hope I commenced taking your medicine. I began to improve from the first bottle, and in a short time the ulcers healed, and my skin cleared off and was entirely well.

One year ago a case of catarrh developed in my system. The physician did his best, but could not cure me; but two bottles of Swift's Specific gave me permanent relief.
